FORT WAYNE will not do without water works much longer. If the city does not build them they must be erected by private capital. The people can have their choice.

A NUMBER of very good reasons why water works should be built are printed elsewhere. We challenge any of the opponents of the improvement to furnish half as many reasons why the works should not be built.

WATER WORKS will not prove a heavy burden upon our people, with the present reduced cost of labor and material and low rate of interest, the works can be built for a sum which will not prove burdensome. Then if we take into consideration the revenue from water rents, the reduced cost of running the fire department and the diminished cost of insurance, and the increased rate of taxation will hardly be felt.

THE Pennsylvania democracy had a large, enthusiastic and harmonious convention at Harrisburgh yesterday. D. E. BARR, of Allegheny, a brother of JAMES P. BARR, proprietor of that able democratic journal, the Pittsburgh Post was nominated for state treasurer. The platform is a good one. It renews allegiance to the fundamental principles recommended and practiced by the men who established the government and founded the democratic party; declares that the rights of the states and liberties of the people are vital parts of our harmonious system; holds that the federal ought to be in all things subordinate to the civil authorities, and denies the right of the federal administration to keep on foot at the general expense a standing army to invade the states for political purposes without regard to political restrictions, control the people at the polls, to protect and encourage fraudulent counts of votes, or to inaugurate candidates rejected by the majority; stoutly protests against the presence of organized military forces and hiring officers at the polls; declares R. B. HAYES to be in power against the legally expressed wishes of the people, and to be the representative of a vast conspiracy; favors a currency of gold, silver and paper redeemable in coin; denounces subsidence and economy, and expresses sympathy with all honest labor. The remainder of the platform condemns in severe terms the flagrant corruption, profligacy and extravagance in the Pennsylvania state government. The democrats are enthusiastic and hopeful and believe they will carry the state.

STATE NEWS.

New Albany is reorganizing her Hendricks Club.

There are now about 700 convicts in the northern prison, mostly working on contracts.

Howard, city treasurer of Madison, gave Simpson, editor of the Madison Star, a terrible pounding Saturday night, for publishing slanderous remarks in his paper.

The wife of Dr. Irwin, of Evansville, who was married only last May, has committed suicide by shooting herself through the heart. Temporary insanity is assigned as the cause.

The coroner's inquest on the death of Lewis Baker at Lafayette last week was that the deceased came to his death by reason of poison by strychnine, administered in an unknown manner by person or persons unknown.

Alvin McCord, of Logansport, last Saturday attempted to use a revolver upon his lady love, who married a "handsome man" in Lafayette a few weeks ago. He didn't shoot the lady, but shot himself into the cooler for forty days and forty nights.

The pump factory of Wm. Douglass at Lafayette, was destroyed on Saturday. About 1,100 new pumps were destroyed and all the stock, machinery, etc. The loss is between $10,000 and $12,000; insured for $7,000. The works will be immediately rebuilt.

David K. Miller and Henry Noff, two wealthy farmers of Jackson township, Elkhart county, were ewinded Thursday out of $2,800 by signing two notes when they supposed they were signing an order for patents. The farmers of Elkhart county have lost some $20,000 by these men.

Dr. William Cooper, aged seventy, and forty-four years a practicing physician; Benjamin Baker, aged eighty-four; Margaret Garnett, aged eighty; Isabella D. Shain, aged sixty-eight; and William Smith, aged eighty-seven, all pioneers of Floyd county, died suddenly Friday, the extreme heat and their feebleness from age causing their deaths.

Gen. Kneffer, pension agent at Indianapolis, has received an important announcement from the pension department, as follows: By virtue of an act of congress, approved June 21, 1879, the biennial examination of invalid pensioners is abolished from that date. The following is the provision: "That section 47,071, 47,072 and 47,073, of the revised statutes of the United States, providing for the biennial examination of pensioners, are hereby repealed."

L. P. Jackson, of Vincennes, seduced Miss Carrie P. Thompson from her home at Evansville, under promise of marriage, as she says. He took his victim to Louisville, where he kept her for a week, and then attempted to leave without paying his bill, placing her in a den of sin. He was arrested, heavily fined, and sent to the work house for four months, in default of $1,000 bonds. He belongs to a good family in Vincennes, and his victim was highly respectable.

Last week, near Harrisonville, Jas. Marley was thrown from a horse and dragged upon the ground until dead. He had been at work and was riding one horse and leading another. He had a loop made in the halter of the led horse, and his hand in the loop. The horse he was riding got frightened and threw him, and the other horse dragged him on the ground a considerable distance. When found he was on the outside of the sill of the stable door, and the horse on the inside. His skull, neck, one arm and one leg were broken, and his flesh bruised to a jelly.

Yesterday's Record of Crimes and Casualties.

A Variety of Interesting Sporting News.

General Intelligence From All over the World.

SPORTING NOTES.

Ottawa, July 6.—The international small bore match between Ogleburg and Ottawa riflemen was concluded today. The total score was: Ogleburg, 406,800 yards; 414, 900 yards; 374, 1,000 yards—total 1,194, out of a possible 1,850. Ottawa, 800 yards, 404, 900 yards, 393, 1,000 yards, 353—total 1,130.

Lake George, N. Y., July 16.—The opening races of the Lake George regatta occurred today. The pair oared race, one mile, between the Gorman brothers, of the Olympic club, of Albany, and the Craig brothers, of Detroit, was won by the former in 11 minutes, 25 1/2 seconds.

Halifax, N. S., July 16.—At a meeting of the rowing association last night, a challenge was received from Evan Morris to Warren Smith to row five miles on the Pittsburg course for $500 a side, allowing Smith $200 for expenses. The challenge was declined for this season, but Morris will be informed that if he wants a race similar to that rowed at Silver Lake, and will come here, he will be allowed $200 for expenses.

Keokuk, July 16.—In the final heat of the junior single of the Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing Association's regatta, the three contestants were Geo. McMurrey, of the Farraguts of Chicago; A. W. Beasley, of Peoria, and Wm. Rhodes, jr., of the Minnesota Club of St. Paul. Beasley was the winner. Time, 16:11; McMurrey 30; time 15:25. The four-oared gig race, mile and return, was contested by the Peoria, Burlington and Keokuk Rowing Clubs, the latter only scoring. Winners—Peoria, time 14:58; Burlington 2d. Beasley, stroke of the Peoria and winner of the previous race, junior single, fainted just as his boat crossed the finish. The crowd was estimated at 25,000. The water was a little rough. The final heat in the junior four-oared shell race was rowed by the Peoria and Burlington Clubs and won by the former in 13:57. The last race of the day was the free for all, double sculls, between the Minnesota and Sylvan, which was easily won by the former in 14:53, defeating their opponents about twenty lengths.

Columbus, July 16.—The second day of the Columbus Driving Park races opened with the unfinished race of yesterday, which was won by Belle Bramfield in 2:28. In the first race, trotting, 2:30 class, purse $300, 11 entries the following started: Charlie Ford, Fushion, D. Munroe, Katie Middleton, Abdallah Boy, Big Soap, Katie Middleton 1st, Big Soap 2d, Charley Ford 3d. Time 2:24, 2:24, 2:26.

In the second race, pacing, purse $600, 7 entries the following started: Clinker, Sleepy Tom, Rowdy Boy, Mattie Hunter, Sleepy Tom 1st, Mattie Hunter 2d, Rowdy Boy 3d. Time 2:14, 2:14, 2:17, 2:10, 2:17. Sleepy Tom is blind and made the best time on record.

HEAVY WHEAT TRANSACTIONS.
New York, July 16.—Among the wheat transactions yesterday was the sale of a lot of 1,000,000 bushels of No. 2 Chicago and Milwaukee, on spot, wheat to arrive soon. It will be taken to the United Kingdom. This is one of the largest lots ever exported and the sale involves $1,125,000. It caused considerable discussion on the Produce Exchange, because this is the second time within ten days that such an amount has been sent abroad. Both lots were bought and sold by the same firm. When it became known that the first lot was sold, prices advanced about two cents, and the market was thrown into great excitement. This sale was very freely discussed, but it had no particular effect on the market prices. The market opened one and a half cent better, and closed with the advance lost.

EMANCIPATION OF JEWS.
London, July 15.—A Bucharest dispatch announces that the ministers tendered their resignations to-day, and the chamber of deputies assembled for consultation. Further dispatches state that the ministers cannot secure a majority in favor of the emancipation of the Jews, which the powers urgently demand, on the condition of their recognizing the independence of Roumania. It is believed if the Jews are not emancipated that Austria, Russia and Turkey, who have already recognized the independence of Roumania, by appointing representatives at Bucharest, will recall them. It is feared that if any further attempt to coerce Roumania is made it might be the commencement of renewed complications.

EVANGELICAL SYNOD.

Columbus, O., July 16.—The Evangelical meeting of the synodical conference of North America met here today. It is composed of the English conference of Missouri, Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Norwegian synod. The following officers were chosen: President, Professor Lehman, of Columbus; vice president, Prof. Larson, of Washington, Neb.; secretary, Prof. Fraude, of Columbus, O.; chaplain, Rev. Graeber, of St. Charles, Mo. The body is composed of 1,600 ministers in the United States and Canada. About 150 delegates are present. The body will be in session six days. The morning sessions will be devoted to a discussion of theological subjects, and afternoons to business.

THE EDUCATIONAL BILL.

Paris, July 16.—The opposition of the senate to Jules Ferry's education bill is directed to the seventh or anti-Jesuit clause. There were thirty senators absent from Bordeaux when the committee members were elected and these might turn the scale either way in debate. The committee will probably elect as chairman, Jules Simon, who is one of the opponents of the anti-Jesuit clause though, however, the government may decide to postpone debate on the bill six months. The government is very much annoyed at the turn things have taken. It is understood Dufaure is one of the opponents of the anti-Jesuit clause and it is thought if he speaks against it its rejection will be certain.

A REMARKABLE DISEASE.

Washington, O., July 16.—A man named John Colum was buried here yesterday who died of a disease wholly unnameable by the medical men, who were unable to treat it with any success. Less than a year ago he commenced itching about the neck, and shortly after the skin commenced to thicken, and by the middle of last winter the man's skin and every part of his body had become thick and hard, appearing one-half an inch thick and assuming a bright yellow color. All the time he suffered untold misery—an indescribable itching sensation that never left him. He consulted all the physicians here, and none could tell him what the name of his disease was or could do him any good. He then consulted one of the most eminent physicians of Cincinnati, who told him that the disease was a remarkable one; he prescribed for him but nothing could alleviate the man's sufferings. Three weeks ago he was taken down, before that he being able to be about and do some work. He seemed to die an easy death. The medical men are completely at sea for a diagnosis for the disease. No post mortem was held on the body.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Toronto, July 16.—Yesterday a fire destroyed a portion of B. & W. Hamilton's boot and shoe factory. Loss $80,000; insured.

New York, July 16.—Henry Nelson a brakeman on the Erie Railroad, has just been sentenced to six months imprisonment for assaulting a lady in Central Park.

New York, July 16.—Jacob Kaser, leader of the Fifth Regiment Band, suicided yesterday by shooting himself through the head. Despondency over the death of his wife was the cause.

New York, July 16.—Capt. Williams, John Steroburg, the Boston pawnbroker, Wm. Bates and Mrs. Charlotte A. Coleman testified, but added nothing of importance to the story already known. The counsel for the prisoner made strenuous efforts to prevent a confession being admitted in evidence. Counsel said a due proportion of his defence was that Mrs. Hull was not dead until after the post mortem examination, and there was no proof of death at the prisoner's hands.

Owenton, Ky., July 16.—On the re-assembling of court this afternoon the prosecution introduced its rebutting testimony, there being eighteen or twenty witnesses to swear that they always considered Buford of sound mind and sane. The prisoner has remained cool and calm all through the trial. He conversed quietly, but intelligently, with all who visit him at the jail. Indications are that the prosecution will finish to-morrow, when the defence will introduce two or three witnesses, after which the arguments will begin. The case will probably go to the jury on Friday.

BREVITIES.

Several bids for silver were refused by the treasury department yesterday, being considerably above the market rate.

R. B. Hayes will spend the most of September at Fremont, O.

The stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railway take the whole subscription of two millions of dollars for the construction of one hundred and thirty miles of the road, from the Columbia River eastward, to Pendersville 1.40.

Winnipeg, July 16.—It is rumored that Gov. Laird's residence, at Battleford, and the government officers are held by the Indians. No telegraphic communications at present with Battleford. The rumor is not generally credited.

The Wisconsin greenbackers nominated the following ticket: For governor, W. L. Utley, of Racine; for secretary of state, G. W. Lee, of Grant; for attorney-general, George B. Goodwin, of Milwaukee; state treasurer, R. A. Griffith, superintendent of public instructions, W. H. Searles, of Marathon.

Dispatches from various points east and south, represent yesterday to have been the most oppressive day of the summer. In Virginia the crops are suffering for want of rain. At St. Louis the weather was very oppressive. Eleven cases of sun stroke were reported, three of them fatal. At Cincinnati the day was the warmest of the season. Four cases of sun stroke were reported, one fatal; John Krill, aged 43, an employee of a safe factory.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The Globe attributes the coldness between Russia and Germany to Bismarck's financial policy.

Disturbances have broken out in Bulgaria, in the neighborhood of Ruse. Bands of insurgents have also appeared at Janboli, in Eastern Roumelia. Troops have been sent from Rusehuk against the insurgents.

A dispatch from Berlin reports serious disturbances taking place among workmen of iron foundries of Silesia in consequence of the demand for increased wages. It is suggested that the imposition of new protective duties on iron it has been necessary to call out troops to enforce order. Some property has been destroyed. It is reported that some of the rioters have been killed and a number wounded by soldiers.

RAIN AND RUIN.

A Terrible Tornado Sweeps Over Massachusetts.

Fearful Destruction of Life and Property.

Buildings Unroofed and Blown Down, Trees Uprooted and Crops Destroyed.

A Score of Persons Killed and a Very Large Number Injured.

A terrible tornado swept over Massachusetts yesterday, doing great damage to life and property.

Many small yachts and other boats were capsized. The most serious disaster yet reported is that of the small schooner Myrtle, of Charleston, having on board six persons, consisting of four women, a man and a boy. The schooner was capsized off Bird Island and all excepting the man, Thos. Dunham, who clung to the top-mast, were drowned. The women were Margaret Dunham, wife of Thos. Dunham, his sister, Lizzie Dunham, his niece, and a boy named Arthur Ryan.

A boy named Walter Hillenham was drowned by the capsizing of a boat off Hull.

At Boston hail fell in large quantities and a large number of windows were broken, many trees broken down and some houses unroofed. Chimneys toppled over, and the flood in some of the streets formed a river several inches deep. One man was killed by a falling chimney.

The loss in Boston is very heavy. Many fine trees on Boston Common and in the public gardens were felled by the wind.

The hurricane struck Nantasket Beach at about 5:40. The Albion House, a large hotel, and two large barns belonging, were completely wrecked, burying Chas. O'Hara, a driver, and Anna Oglesby, cook, beneath the ruins. The former was badly bruised, the latter had a shoulder dislocated and was otherwise injured. W. H. Thompson's photograph car was blown to splinters, and Chas. Akert, the artist, received injuries which will probably prove fatal. A coach was overturned, and a three-year-old child of W. H. Joy, of South Weymouth, was killed.

At Pittsfield two persons were killed and three or four wounded, some fatally. Buildings were unroofed and blown down, hundreds of trees leveled, and fully $15,000 to $20,000 damage done. A black cloud springing up suddenly in the west while the thermometer stood 86° was the first warning of the approach of the storm, which lasted 15 minutes. It was so black that gas was lighted in the stores. Rain mingled with hail, rushing winds and almost incessant lightning and thunder, made the storm memorable.

The tornado took a course from west to east. About one-half mile from the business portion of the town it struck Kellogg place, occupied by Thomas Payne. The wall of the kitchen part of the house was blown in and the barn completely demolished, wagons smashed and hay blown away; then following along the valley to the southeast, leveled hundreds of trees. Bridget Tarte's house was unroofed and the building demolished, but the inmates escaped unhurt. Fumery's factory was unroofed, the surrounding tenements damaged, and a building known as the tannery blown to pieces. In the building were Matthew Collins, ten years of age, who was crushed beneath the debris, and John Collins, his brother, who had both arms and jaws broken, and an old man named Matthews. From a factory in the village the wind tore across the fields, leveling fences, orchards and crops, and next struck North street. The Redfield house was partly unroofed, Geo. Wentworth's house lifted from the foundation, turned around, and carried away two rods, and other houses in the vicinity lost chimneys, piazzas, etc. Taylor place, occupied by Samuel Payne, a fine brick house surrounded by stately trees, was entirely unroofed, the trees all broken or torn up by the roots, and the place presents a scene of ruin and wreck. Opposite the residence of Hon. Jno. A. Dunham was unroofed and barns prostrated, but no people hurt. His son-in-law's residence, next south, was also badly damaged: A falling tree struck a horse of Mrs. Beckwith, of Stockbridge. The horse sprang around, overturning the wagon upon Mrs. Beckwith, killing her instantly. The storm then passed over open fields. No damage was done for a mile or so, when it leveled an orchard on Mill's place, tore up trees, destroyed Kernechan's summer residence, demolished the iron bridge crossing the Hoosatic River and reached the buildings of John W. Noble, demolishing two barns. Gleason's slaughter house also tumbled into ruins. From Naples the storm rushed across the valley, leveling all in its way, and struck at last on the west side of the Washington Mountains, where six barns were destroyed, two houses partly blown down and all the fences leveled. The track of the tornado was not over sixty rods in width.

At Worcester trees were torn up by the roots and crops badly damaged.

At Berlin a barn owned by Madame Rundersdorf was demolished and a man named Cheney and two horses killed. A man named Naume was injured by a fall of a tree, and a man named Marshall and another named Baker were seriously injured.

At Springfield the storm opened very suddenly, and the base-hall stand in Hamden Park was blown to pieces, but the people who gathered to see the game between the Springfield and New Bedford escaped serious injuries, though several were badly bruised. At East Hampton Pomeroy's block was unroofed. Northampton suffered the most, her famous elms, some of them three feet in diameter, were torn up, prostrated and scattered everywhere throughout the town. It is impossible to estimate the money damage but it seriously impairs the town's picturesque beauty. Mansion House and other taverns thereabout suffered generally from prostrated crops and trees, and a picnic party on Mount Holyoke saw the ruins of six barns.

At Fitchburg the tornado lasted but three minutes and all the damage was done instantly. The spire of the Universalist Church was hurled into Main street opposite the Rollstone House, the tin roof of the city hall was launched into the street; the easterly extension to city hall in progress of construction was blown down, and several workmen had very narrow escapes. The trees along the street, from the Fitchburg hotel to the Episcopal Church were, to a great extent, blown down, and also several on Hartwell, Pritchard and other streets. Many houses lost all their chimneys, seven falling from the Fitchburg hotel. The damage to the city hall is estimated at $1,000.

Editorial Excursions.

[Washington Post.]
Editorial excursions, so-called, are beginning to devastate the country, and will probably continue for some months. We know of no greater delusion, in a small way, than the notion that these incursions represent the press. Journalists have neither time nor inclination for free lunch and dead-end junketing. When a journalist travels, he prefers not to go as a part of a caravan, and he does not label himself "editor." It would be as near the mark to herald a party of "sages" as representatives of the dramatic art as to herald these hungry pilgrims as representing the press of any state or section.

There is no Response.

[Washington Courier.]
The Fort Wayne SENTINEL wants to put up $250 on the proposition that it has a larger circulation than any paper in Indiana outside of Indianapolis. Evansville, Terre Haute, New Albany and Lafayette publishers should respond.

Too True! Too True!
[Lafayette Courier.]

The man who kicks the loudest and longest over the "personal" column of a newspaper, is the same self-individual who purchases a half dozen copies containing his notice to send to his friends.

Read our Proclamation.
[Hogansport Phoenix.]

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL is trying to get up a boom on "the largest subscription," when it ought to know that the Indianapolis News has a corner on that commodity.

When to Discard a Necktie.
[Brooklyn Argus.]

The man who owns a fine gold collar button, with a diamond set in the center, always considers it cooler and more comfortable to go without a necktie.

No Doubt of It.
[Hendricks County Democrat.]

Robt. C. Ball, of Fort Wayne, would make an excellent governor.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Parlor scene: Mrs. Brown who has spent the summer among the White Mountains in search of health, and who seems to have searched the whole mountain side without being able to find a pair of blooming cheeks or an inch of healthful skin. Mrs. White, who has remained at home because her husband could not afford to go, but whose fresh complexion and bright eyes seem to have caught their brightness from mountain breezes.

Mrs. B.—Dear me, Mrs. White, how well you look! If you will not think me impudent, let me ask how you can keep so healthy in this dreadful city? I have been to the White Mountains, go there every summer, in fact, and I can't keep off the doctor's list at that.

Mrs. W. (smiling).—I'll tell you the whole secret, Mrs. Brown. You remember how poorly I was last spring, some days even being confined to my bed. Dr. — told Mr. White to send me to the mountains, but I knew he couldn't afford it, and I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its effects were so marvelous that I also tried the Golden Medical Discovery, to cleanse my system. In my opinion, one bottle of the Prescription and the Discovery is better than six weeks of the White Mountains for a sick woman. I have only been out of the city a week during the whole summer; then my husband and I went to Buffalo and stopped at Dr. Pierce's Hotel. The baths and mechanical apparatus for treating patients were alone worth going to see. Besides, our accommodations were better than we had at Long Branch last year, and the drives and scenery are superb. Let me advise you to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and try the Lavanide and Tourists' Hotel next summer instead of the White Mountains.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian minister of the M. E. church, just this moment stopped in our store to say: "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our counters, and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of lung diseases, such as nothing else has done.

Gen. Kneller, pension agent at Indianapolis, has received an important announcement from the pension department, as follows: By virtue of an act of congress, approved June 21, 1879, the biennial examination of invalid pensioners is abolished from that date. The following is the provision: "That section 47,071, 47,072 and 47,073 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, providing for the biennial examination of pensioners, are hereby repealed."

L. P. Jackson, of Vincennes, seduced Miss Carrie P. Thompson from her home at Evansville, under promise of marriage, as she says. He took her to Louisville, where he kept her for a week, and then attempted to leave without paying his bill, placing her in a den of sin. He was arrested, heavily fined, and sent to the work house for four months, in default of $1,000 bonds. He belongs to a good family in Vincennes, and his victim was highly respectable.

Last week, near Harrisonville, Jas. Marley was thrown from a horse and dragged upon the ground until dead. He had been at work and was riding one horse and leading another. He had a loop made in the halter of the lead horse, and his hand in the loop. The horse he was riding got frightened and threw him, and the other horse dragged him on the ground a considerable distance. When found he was on the outside of the sill of the stable door, and the horse on the inside. His skull, neck, one arm and one leg were broken, and his flesh bruised to jelly.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Yesterday's Record of Crimes and Casualties.

A Variety of Interesting Sporting

News.

General Intelligence From

All over the World.

SPORTING NOTES.

Ottawa, July 6.—The international small bore match between Ogdenburg and Ottawa riflemen was concluded today. The total score was: Ogdenburg, 406, 800 yards; 414, 900 yards; 374, 1,000 yards—total 1,194, out of a possible 1,350. Ottawa, 800 yards, 404; 800 yards, 393; 1,000 yards, 353—total 1,150.

Lake George, N. Y., July 16.—The opening races of the Lake George regatta occurred today. The pair oared race, one mile, between the Gorman brothers, of the Olympic club, of Albany, and the Craig brothers, of Detroit, was won by the former in 11 minutes, 25 1/2 seconds.

Halifax, N. S., July 16.—At a meeting of the rowing association last night, a challenge was received from Evan Morris to Warren Smith to row five miles on the Pittsburg course for $500 a side, allowing Smith $200 for expenses. The challenge was declined for this season, but Morris will be informed that if he wants a race similar to that rowed at Silver Lake, and will come here, he will be allowed $200 for expenses.

Keokuk, July 16.—In the final heat of the junior single of the Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing Association's regatta, the three contestants were God. Muchmore, of the Farragut, Chicago; A. W. Beasley, of Peoria, and Wm. Rhodes, jr., of the Minnesota Club of St. Paul. Beasley was the winner. Time, 15:11 1/2. Muchmore 3d; time 15:25. The four-oared gig race, mile and return, was contested by the Peoria, Burlington and Keokuk Rowing Clubs, the latter only scoring. Winners—Peoria, time 14:38; Burlington 2d. Beasley, stroke of the Peoria and winner of the previous race, junior single, fainted just as his boat crossed the finish. The crowd was estimated at 25,000. The final heat in the junior four-oared shell race was rowed by the Peoria and Burlington Clubs and won by the former in 13:57 1/2. The last race of the day was the free for all, double sculls, between the Minnesota and Sylvaans, which was easily won by the former in 14:53, defeating their opponents about twenty lengths.

Columbus, July 16.—The second day of the Columbus Driving Park races opened with the unfinished race of yesterday, which was won by Belle Bramfield in 2:28 1/2. In the first race, trotting, 2:30 class, purse $600, 11 entries the following started: Charlie Ford, Fashion, D. Munroe, Kattie Middleton, Abdallah Boy, Big Soap, Kattie Middleton 1st, Big Soap 2d, Charlie Ford 3d. Time 2:24 1/2; 2:24; 2:26 1/2.

In the second race, pacing, purse $600, 7 entries, the following started: Clinker, Sleepy Tom, Rowdy Boy, Mattie Hunter, Sleepy Tom 1st, Mattie Hunter 2d, Rowdy Boy 3d. Time 2:14; 2:19; 2:17; 2:16 1/2. Sleepy Tom is blind and made the best time on record.

HEAVY WHEAT TRANSACTIONS. New York, July 16.—Among the wheat transactions yesterday was the sale of a lot of 1,000,000 bushels of No. 2 Chicago and Milwaukee, on spot, wheat to arrive soon. It will be taken to the United Kingdom. This is one of the largest lots ever exported and the sale involves $1,120,000. It caused considerable discussion on the Produce Exchange, because this is the second time within ten days that such an amount has been sent abroad. Both lots were bought and sold by the same firm. When it became known that the first lot was sold, prices advanced about two cents, and the market was thrown into great excitement. This sale was very freely discussed, but it had no particular effect on the market prices. The market opened one and a half cent better, and closed with the advance lost.

EMANCIPATION OF JEWS. London, July 15.—A Bucharest dispatch announces that the ministers tendered their resignations today, and the chamber of deputies assembled for consultation. Further dispatches state that the ministers cannot secure a majority in favor of the emancipation of the Jews, which the powers urgently demand, on the condition of their recognizing the independence of Roumania. It is believed that the Jews are not emancipated at Anetia, Russia, and Turkey, who have already recognized the independence of Roumania, by appointing representatives at Bucharest, will recall them. It is feared that if any further attempt to coerce Roumania is made it might be the commencement of renewed complications.

EVANGELICAL SYNOD.

Columbus, O., July 16.—The Evangelical meeting of the synodical conference of North America met here today. It is composed of the English conference of Missouri, Ohio, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Norwegian synod. The following officers were chosen: President, Professor Lehman, of Columbus; vice president, Prof. Larson, of Washington, Neb.; secretary, Prof. Fraude, of Columbus, O.; chaplain, Rev. Graebner, of St. Charles, Mo. The body is composed of 1,600 ministers in the United States and Canada. About 150 delegates are present. The body will be in session six days. The morning sessions will be devoted to a discussion of theological subjects, and afterwards to business.

THE EDUCATIONAL BILL.

Paris, July 16.—The opposition of the senate to Jules Ferry's education bill is directed to the seventh or anti-Jesuit clause. There were thirty senators absent from Bordeaux when the committee members were elected and these might turn the scale either way in debate. The committee will probably elect as chairman, Jules Simon, who is one of the opponents of the anti-Jesuit clause though, however, the government may decide to postpone debate on the bill six months. The government is very much annoyed at the turn things have taken. It is understood Dufaure is one of the opponents of the anti-Jesuit clause and it is thought if he speaks against it its rejection will be certain.

A REMARKABLE DISEASE.

Washington, O., July 16.—A man named John Colman was buried here yesterday who died of a disease wholly unnamable by the medical men, who were unable to treat it with any success. Less than a year ago he commenced itching about the neck and shortly after the skin commenced to thicken, and by the middle of last winter the man's skin and every part of his body had become thick and hard, appearing one-half an inch thick and assuming a bright yellow color. All the time he suffered untold misery—an indescribable itching sensation that never left him. He consulted all the physicians here, and none could tell him what the name of his disease was or could do him any good. He then consulted one of the most eminent physicians of Cincinnati, who told him that the disease was a remarkable one; he prescribed for him but nothing could alleviate the man's sufferings. Three weeks ago he was taken down, before that he being able to be about and do some work. He seemed to die an easy death. The medical men are completely at sea for a diagnosis for the disease. No post mortem was held on the body.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

Toronto, July 16.—Yesterday a fire destroyed a portion of B. & W. Hamilton's boot and shoe factory. Loss $80,000; insured.

New York, July 16.—Henry Nelson a brakeman on the Erie Railroad, has just been sentenced to six months imprisonment for assaulting a lady in Central Park.

New York, July 16.—Jacob Kaner, leader of the Fifth Regiment Band, suicided yesterday by shooting himself through the head. Despondency over the death of his wife was the cause.

New York, July 16.—Capt. Williams, John Sterroburg, the Boston pawnbroker, Wm. Batch and Mrs. Charlotte A. Coleman testified, but added nothing of importance to the story already known. The counsel for the prisoner made strenuous efforts to prevent a confession being admitted in evidence. Counsel said a due proportion of his defence was that Mrs. Hall was not dead until after the post mortem examination, and there was no proof of death at the prisoner's hands.

Owenton, Ky., July 16.—On the re-assembling of court this afternoon the prosecution introduced its rebutting testimony, there being eighteen or twenty witnesses to swear that they always considered the prisoner sane, and that the defence will introduce two or three witnesses, after which the arguments will begin. The case will probably go to the jury on Friday.

BREVITIES.

Several bids for silver were refused by the treasury department yesterday, being considerably above the market rate.

R. B. Hayes will spend the most of September at Fremont, O.

The stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railway take the whole subscription of two millions of dollars for the construction of one hundred and thirty miles of the road, from the Columbia River eastward, to Pendersville 1.16.

Winnepeg, July 16.—It is rumored that Gov. Laird's residence, at Battleford, and the government officers are held by the Indians. No telegraphic communications at present with Battleford. The rumor is not generally credited.

The Wisconsin greenbackers nominated the following ticket: For governor, W. L. Utley, of Racine; for secretary of state, G. W. Lee, of Grant; for attorney-general, George B. Goodwin, of Milwaukee; state treasurer, R. A. Griffith, superintendent of public instruction, W. H. Searles, of Marathon.

Dispatches from various points east and south, represent yesterday to have been the most oppressive day of the summer. In Virginia the crops are suffering for want of rain. At St. Louis the weather was very oppressive. Eleven cases of sun stroke were reported, three of them fatal. At Cincinnati the day was the warmest of the season. Four cases of sun stroke were reported, one fatal; John Krall, aged 43, an employee of a safe factory.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The Golas attributes the coldness between Russia and Germany to Bismarck's financial policy.

Disturbances have broken out in Bulgaria, in the neighborhood of Rosgrad. Bands of insurgents have also appeared at Jamboli, in Eastern Roumelia. Troops have been sent from Rutchuk against the insurgents.

A dispatch from Berlin reports serious disturbances taking place among workmen of iron foundries of Silesia in consequence of the demand for increased wages. It is suggested that the imposition of new protective duties on iron it has been necessary to call out troops to enforce order. Some property has been destroyed. It is reported that some of the rioters have been killed and a number wounded by soldiers.

RAIN AND RUIN.

A Terrible Tornado Sweeps

Over Massachusetts.

Fearful Destruction of Life and Property.

Buildings Unroofed and Blown

Down, Trees Uprooted and Crops Destroyed.

A Score of Persons Killed and a Very Large Number Injured.

A terrible tornado swept over Massachusetts yesterday, doing great damage to life and property.

Many small yachts and other boats were capsized. The most serious disaster yet reported is that of the small schooner Myrtle, of Charleston, having on board six persons, consisting of four women, a man and a boy. The schooner was capsized off Bird Island and all excepting the man, Thos. Dunham, who clung to the top-mast, were drowned. The women were Margaret Dunham, wife of Thos. Dunham, his sister, Lizzie Dunham, his niece, and a boy named Arthur Ryan.

A boy named Walter Hillenham was drowned by the capsizing of a boat off Hull.

At Boston hail fell in large quantities and a large number of windows were broken, many trees broken down and some houses unroofed. Chimneys toppled over, and the flood in some of the streets formed a river several inches deep. One man was killed by a falling elm.

The loss in Boston is very heavy. Many fine trees on Boston Commons and in the public gardens were felled by the wind.

The hurricane struck Nantasket Beach at about 5:40. The Albion house, a large hotel, and two large barns belonging to the estate of the late George O'Hara, a driver, and Anna Oglesby, cook, beneath the ruins. The former was badly bruised, the latter had a shoulder dislocated and was otherwise injured. W. H. Thompson's photograph car was blown to splinters, and Chas. Akert, the artist, received injuries which will probably prove fatal. A coach was overturned, and a three-year-old child of W. H. Joy, of South Weymouth, was killed.

At Pittsfield two persons were killed and three or four wounded, some fatally. Buildings were unroofed and blown down, hundreds of trees felled, and fully $15,000 to $20,000 damage done. A black cloud springing up suddenly in the west while the thermometer stood 86° was the first warning of the approach of the storm, which lasted 15 minutes. It was so black that gas was lighted in the stores. Rain mingled with hail, rushing winds and almost incessant lightning and thunder, made the storm monotonous.

The tornado took a course from west to east. About one-half mile from the business portion of the town it struck Kellogg place, occupied by Thomas Payne. The wall of the kitchen part of the house was blown in and the barn completely demolished, wagons smashed and hay blown away; then following along the valley to the southeast, leveled hundreds of trees. Bridget Tatt's house was unroofed and the building demolished, but the inmates escaped unharmed. Pomeroy's factory was unroofed, the surrounding tenements damaged, and a building known as the tannery blown to pieces. In the building were Matthew Collins, ten years of age, who was crushed beneath the debris, and John Collins, his brother, who had both arms and jaws broken, and an old man named Matthews. From a factory in the village the wind tore across the fields, leveling fences, orchards and crops, and struck North street. The Redfield house was partly unroofed, Geo. Wentworth's house lifted from the foundation, turned around, and carried away two rods, and other houses in the vicinity lost chimneys, piazzas, etc. Taylor Place, occupied by Samuel Payne, a fine brick house surrounded by stately trees, was entirely unroofed, the trees all broken or torn up by the roots, and the place presents a scene of ruin and wreck. Opposite the residence of Hon. Jno. A. Dunham was unroofed and barns prostrated, but no people hurt. His son-in-law's residence, next north, was also badly damaged. A falling tree struck a horse of Mrs. Benwith, of Stockbridge. The horse sprang around, overturning the wagon upon Mrs. Benwith, killing her instantly. The storm then passed over open fields. No damage was done for a mile or so, when it leveled an orchard on Milp place, tore up trees, destroyed Kennochan's summer residence, demolished the iron bridge crossing the Housatonic River and reached the buildings of John W. Noble, demolishing two barns. Gleason's slaughter house also tumbled into ruins. From Naples the storm rushed across the valley, leveling all in its way, and struck at last on the west side of the Washington Mountains, where six barns were destroyed, two houses partly blown down and all the fences leveled. The track of the tornado was not over sixty rods in width.

At Worcester trees were torn up by the roots and crops badly damaged. At Berlin a barn owned by Madame Rudersdorf was demolished and a man named Cheney and two horses killed. A man named Naume was injured by a hope of recovery, and a man named Marshall and another named Baker were seriously injured.

At Springfield the storm opened very suddenly, and the base ball stand in Hamden Park was blown to pieces, but the people who gathered to see the game between the Springfield and New Bedford clubs escaped serious injuries, though several were badly bruised. At East Hampton Pomeroy's block was unroofed. Northampton suffered the most, her famous elms, some of them three feet in diameter, were torn up, prostrated and scattered everywhere throughout the town. It is impossible to estimate the money damage but it seriously impairs the town's picturesqueness. Mansion House and other towns thereabout suffered generally from prostrated crops and trees, and a picnic party on Mount Holyoke saw the ruins of six barns.

At Fitchburg the tornado lasted but three minutes and all the damage was done instantly. The spire of the Universalist Church was hurled into Main street opposite the Roulston House; the tin roof of the city hall was launched into the street; the easterly extension to city hall in progress of construction was blown down and several workmen had very narrow escapes. The trees along the street, from the Fitchburg hotel to the Episcopal Church were to a great extent blown down, and also several on Hartwell, Pritchard and other streets. Many houses lost all their chimneys, seven falling from the Fitchburg hotel. The damage to the city hall is estimated at $1,000.

Editorial Excursions.

(Washington Post.)

Editorial excursions, so-called, are beginning to devastate the country, and will probably continue for some months. We know of no greater delusion, in a small way, than the notion that these incursions represent the press. Journalists have neither time nor inclination for free lunch and deadhead junketing. When a journalist travels, he prefers not to go as a part of a caravan, and he does not label himself "editor." It would be near the mark to herald a party of "guyers" as representatives of the dramatic art as to herald these hungry pilgrims as representing the press of any state or section.

There is no Response.

(Wabash Courier.)

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL wants to put up $250 on the proposition that it has a larger circulation than any paper in Indiana outside of Indianapolis. Evansville, Terre Haute, New Albany and Lafayette publishers should respond.

Too True! Too True!!

(Lafayette Courier.)

The man who kicks the loudest and longest over the "personal" column of a newspaper, is the self same individual who purchases a half dozen copies containing his notice to send to his friends.

Read our Proclamation.

(Logansport Pharos.)

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL is trying to get up a boom for "the largest subscription," when it ought to know that the Indianapolis A. C. has a corner on that commodity.

When to Discard a Necktie.

(Brooklyn Argus.)

The man who owns a fine gold collar button, with a diamond set in the center, always considers it cooler and more comfortable to go without a necktie.

No Doubt of It.

(Hendricks County Democrat.)

Robt. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, would make an excellent governor.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Parlor scene: Mrs. Brown who has spent the summer among the White Mountains in search of health, and who seems to have searched the whole mountain side without being able to find a pair of blooming cheeks or a inch of healthful skin. Mrs. White, who has remained at home because her husband could not afford to go, but whose fresh complexion and bright eyes seem to have caught their brightness from mountain breezes.

Mrs. B.—Dear me, Mrs. White, how well you are looking! If you will not think me impertinent, let me ask how you can keep so healthy in this dreadful city? I have been to the White Mountains, go there every summer, in fact, and I can't keep off the doctor's bill at that.

Mrs. W. (smiling). I'll tell you the whole secret, Mrs. Brown. You remember how poorly I was last spring, some days even being confined to my bed. Dr. told Mr. White to send me to the mountains, but I knew he couldn't afford it, and I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its effects were so marvelous that I also tried the Golden Medical Discovery, to cleanse my system. In my opinion, one bottle of the Prescription and the Discovery is better than six weeks of the White Mountains for a sick woman. I have early been out of the city a week during the whole summer; then my husband and I went to the White Mountains, and stopped at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' and Tourists' Hotel. The baths and mechanical apparatus for treating patients were alone worth going to see. Besides, our accommodations were better than we had at Long Branch last year, and the drives and scenery and superb. Let me advise you to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and try the Invalids' and Tourists' Hotel next summer instead of the White Mountains.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity, known to everyone as a most influential citizen, and Christian minister of the M. E. church, just this moment stopped in our store. "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." It is having a tremendous sale over our country, and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of lung diseases, such as nothing else has done.

THE CITY.

There is a firmer feeling in real estate.

The Misses McPhail are in Colorado.

The county commissioners are in session.

Matin the park to-morrow evening.

The council is busily engaged in equalizing.

Mrs. W. F. LaBonta has returned from Michigan.

K. J. Bauer's infant child was buried this afternoon.

Nero, Geo. Mayers's noble Newfoundland dog, is dead.

Emanuel Fox has been released from jail and is now at large.

Mrs. G. W. Seavey and Mrs. P. A. Randall have gone to Rye Beach, N. H.

Bishop A. W. Wayman will preach in the A. M. E. Church Friday night. All are invited to attend.

Geo. Yocot, an inmate of the Cass county poor house, died last Sunday of dropsy. His body was brought here for interment.

Quite a number of confidence men are making Fort Wayne their headquarters. The police are keeping a sharp lookout for them.

The Qui Vive Club was entertained last evening in regal style by the Misses Withers. The affair was a very brilliant one in every respect.

Hereafter no city orders issued in favor of those who are delinquent for city taxes will be paid by the treasurer. That is right. Those who do not pay their taxes should not receive what the city owes them.

The "Brainard Society" will hold their monthly meeting, in the lecture room of the Second Presbyterian Church, Friday evening, July 19th. An especial effort has been made to secure the presentation of some fine vocal quartette music. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Sam Boughman, whose death at the pest house was mentioned in yesterday's SENTINEL, died of delirium tremens. His death struggles were terrible to behold. Boughman was about 40 years of age. He was somewhat deformed, and was a familiar object to our citizens, having lived here for many years.

The SENTINEL understands that the differences between Rev. Mr. Tate and the vestry of Trinity Church are being settled, and Mr. Tate will remain here. It is claimed that the opposition to Mr. Tate is confined to a very small faction in the church led by one or two of the older members of the vestry, and that the rest of the congregation are in hearty sympathy with the pastor and appreciate him as a preacher and church worker.

John Wessell, sr., purchased a blooded horse last Monday, which he will drive at Swinney Park to-morrow evening. This beautiful animal has many fine points. He over-reaches, that is he over-reaches the amount of oats John had intended feeding by about two bushels per day. John does not carry him for fear of coming his fine points off. John thinks that with feeding him 365 bushels of oats per day for 365 days, he will be able to trot 365 miles in 365 days.

Capt. White was at Toledo yesterday.

Mrs. F. W. Pond has gone to Petoskey.

The dial on the town clock are being repainted.

Chief Snyder, of Warsaw, was in town yesterday.

The Plymouth social meets at the church to-night.

Miss Mollie Green is visiting her sister in Chicago.

Hon. A. H. Hamilton left for Cincinnati yesterday.

Miss Lizzie Bowen returned yesterday to her home in Van Wert.

The Morgan case will come up in the criminal court next Monday.

New wheat is coming in. The first lot was marketed yesterday at $1.

Seymour Smith is taking a two weeks rest at his home in this city.

A temperance prayer meeting was held at the Baptist Church last night.

During the month of June 14,478 gallons of whisky were sold in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fisher will take a trip down the St. Lawrence next month.

W. L. Carnahan, Tom Ellison and B. H. Kimball left for Indianapolis yesterday.

The bus line carried 2,100 railroad passengers and about 1,000 pieces of baggage during June.

Mrs. Geo. Moon returned to Warsaw yesterday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. O. Becka.

Charles O'Neill fell through a hatchway at Charles Wells's store this morning and was badly bruised.

A SENTINEL reporter interviewed 3,000 citizens on the weather question yesterday. A singular unity of opinion was expressed.

The probabilities are that Robert Rhodes (colored), recently divorced from his wife, will in a very short time re-marry her.

The SENTINEL has been agitating the weather question to such an extent that a decided change for the cooler has been determined on.

Gen. Miles's command has started toward the British line against the northern Sioux and Sitting Bull. Lieut. Hobart Bailey accompanies the command as Gen. Miles's aide-de-camp.

It was Howard S. Cherry who was mixed up with the Madison street rumper Monday night instead of Wm. H. Cherry as stated. The latter is employed in the Pittsburgh boiler shop, bears a good reputation, and never mixes in street brawls.

Yesterday the United States commissioner sold at the court house a number of lots in Archer's addition, aggregating $14,500. This, however, included two lots on Harrison street. Jonathan Edwards, trustee of the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, was the purchaser.

Last evening an individual of the Teutonic persuasion was around the south depot saloons endeavoring to purchase cigar boxes. He went into the saloon of P. Woullie and asked for a cigar box. The bartender took one and handed it to him, not, however, before defacing the stamp. When the Teuton saw this he would not take the box. He said he was a detective and could show his papers. As soon as this was learned he was ordered to ramoose, which mandate was promptly obeyed.

Zimmerman, the shoemaker who was burglarized a few nights ago, has been acting as a private detective for himself and refused to give any information to the officers until last evening, when he informed them that he had the thief spotted and wanted a search warrant. The warrant was procured, and the room of Michael Martin searched, but resulted in finding nothing. Martin is said to be an honest, trustworthy young man, and what grounds Zimmerman had for suspecting him cannot be divined by the officers. It is suspected him to inconvenience and suspicions without any apparent legitimate grounds therefor.

A LEG OFF.

Shocking Accident in the Seventh Ward.

Sad End of a Reportorial Investigation.

The many friends of Fred Groat were shocked last evening to hear that his leg was taken off. A faint zephyr laden with the news fanned the reportorial ear, and with the hope of chronicling a sensation, the various "what dyes knows" started for the house of the above named individual. They all sallied in and found the victim clamped in the arms of Morpheus. Several of the reporters began to shed tears at the sight of the sleeping individual, and various expressions, such as "The poor fellow!" "How did it happen?" etc., were heard. The sleeper, thinking that some tramps were in the house, woke up and leaping out on the floor collapsed poor Conover, who immediately swooned. Dick Fowler took a back window passage, while the gallant quilldriver from this office got under the bed where with baton breath he listened to the following: "Conover, as he gradually returned to consciousness began to realize the situation. The infuriated man who had lost his leg asked Con 'what he wanted.' 'Oh sir don't shoot me. I'm poor and have to work hard for a living. Let me off this time and I'll never come within two thousand miles of your house again.' At this juncture a jangle from under the bed startled the 'wounded man,' who proceeded to investigate the author of the jangle. While he was looking for 'Quir,' Con took to his heels and has not since been seen. The 'one-legged' presently drew out something which resembled in size and contour an 'African Tapir,' and made a few remarks.

"Quir" trembled like an aspen leaf during this burst of eloquence, and as the one-legged individual released his hold the "What I've Known" darted out the window like a streak of greased lightning, and just as he reached the door of his domicile fainted. Medical help was procured, and at this writing he is resting somewhat easier.

N. B.—It should be added that Mr. Groat's leg was taken off Tuesday night; also that it is a wooden leg and he takes it off every night when he retires.

Gen. Miles's command has started toward the British line against the northern Sioux and Sitting Bull. Lieut. Hobart Bailey accompanies the command as Gen. Miles's aide-de-camp.

It was Howard S. Cherry who was mixed up with the Madison street rumper Monday night instead of Wm. H. Cherry as stated. The latter is employed in the Pittsburgh boiler shop, bears a good reputation, and never mixes in street brawls.

Yesterday the United States commissioner sold at the court house a number of lots in Archer's addition, aggregating $14,500. This, however, included two lots on Harrison street. Jonathan Edwards, trustee of the Equitable Trust Co. of New York, was the purchaser.

Last evening an individual of the Teutonic persuasion was around the south depot saloons endeavoring to purchase cigar boxes. He went into the saloon of P. Woullie and asked for a cigar box. The bartender took one and handed it to him, not, however, before defacing the stamp. When the Teuton saw this he would not take the box. He said he was a detective and could show his papers. As soon as this was learned he was ordered to ramoose, which mandate was promptly obeyed.

Zimmerman, the shoemaker who was burglarized a few nights ago, has been acting as a private detective for himself and refused to give any information to the officers until last evening, when he informed them that he had the thief spotted and wanted a search warrant. The warrant was procured, and the room of Michael Martin searched, but resulted in finding nothing. Martin is said to be an honest, trustworthy young man, and what grounds Zimmerman had for suspecting him cannot be divined by the officers. It is suspected him to inconvenience and suspicions without any apparent legitimate grounds therefor.

Reck-on-g-a in the Past.

Whatever pertains to the special history of any locality possesses an interest among the people co-extensive with the interest felt in the development and progress of home affairs.

It is generally conceded, of course, by the citizens of Fort Wayne especially, that the spirit of antiquity hovers around our very hearth stones—exciting, perchance, a recollection to the thrilling incidents enacted from one to two centuries ago, on ground upon which we tread daily.

By way of suggestion, then, we allude to the fact that Chevalier de La Salle, in 1680, for the purpose of trade, built Fort Grievocour, on the Illinois River, having before, for many years, employed canoes as a means of transporting his commodities of trade along the river Oyo, Ouabache and others in the surrounding neighborhood, which flow into the Mississippi, whereof possession was taken by the French government. At the same time, the countries and river of the Oyo or Abache and circumscribed territory were inhabited by the Miami. The history of Allen county, in process of preparation by Kingman Bros., will abound with recitals of fact connected with these early days.

The SENTINEL understands that the differences between Rev. Mr. Tate and the vestry of Trinity Church are being settled, and Mr. Tate will remain here. It is claimed that the opposition to Mr. Tate is confined to a very small faction in the church led by one or two of the older members of the vestry, and that the rest of the congregation are in hearty sympathy with the pastor and appreciate him as a preacher and church worker.

John Wessell, sr., purchased a blooded horse last Monday, which he will drive at Swinney Park to-morrow evening. This beautiful animal has many fine points. He over-reaches, that is he over-reaches the amount of oats John had intended feeding by about two bushels per day. John does not carry him for fear of coming his fine points off. John thinks that

A LEG OFF.

Shocking Accident in the Seventh Ward.

Sad End of a Reportorial Investigation.

The many friends of Fred Groat were shocked last evening to hear that his leg was taken off. A faint zephyr laden with the news fanned the reportorial ear, and with the hope of chronicling a sensation, the various "what dyes knows" started for the house of the above named individual. They all sallied in and found the victim clamped in the arms of Morpheus. Several of the reporters began to shed tears at the sight of the sleeping individual, and various expressions, such as "The poor fellow!" "How did it happen?" etc., were heard. ## POOR JULIA WARD.

The Noted African Female Totally Blind.

What She Has to Say About a Recent Colored Row.

Julia Ward Weaver, the well known colored woman whose sayings and actions amused the people for so many years, has become totally blind. She is said about the streets by a little girl, being entirely helpless. She came to the SENTINEL office this morning and stated that she had recently returned from Cincinnati, where she had been endeavoring to get cured, or partially cured; but did not succeed. Julia and her husband, Thomas Weaver, are living on East Main street over a second hand store. She says that her relations, for whom she worked very hard for many years, have all deserted her in her affliction, but her husband sticks to her, takes good care of her and spends all his money on her. Julia is trying to raise money enough to enable her to go to Chicago and receive the treatment of an eminent oculist, who she thinks can cure her. She will probably call on some of our citizens for a little help which should and doubtless will be readily given her.

She happened in for publication a long communication with reference to the suit of her husband against the A. M. E. Church, recently tried before Justice Ryan, which created so much of a sensation among the colored people. Julia says the debt was an honest one and justly due. She also declares that the evidence given by Geo. Fisher in the case was not true. He swore that Weaver was expelled from the A. M. E. Church for swearing, beating her and getting drunk. She denies this in toto, and proceeds in a lively way. She charges that when Fisher's wife ran away from him he tried to induce her (Julia) to get her to return to him. She alleges that Fisher's wife was a woman of bad character and that when she left him she went to a house of ill-fame kept by "Big Luce," etc. Julia makes all kinds of serious charges against Fisher, which she claims to be able to prove. The communication is too long for publication, and is in the proper shape.

THE RAILROADS.

This is pay day on the Pittsburgh road.

The railroad news department of the SENTINEL has become an attractive and important feature.

For the information of the inquisitive, it may be stated that the Pittsburgh pay car visits Toledo for the purpose of paying off the employees of what is known as the Mansfield branch of the Pennsylvania lines.

Work on the new "P. F." bridge at Columbus City was suspended a few days on account of a strike of the quarrymen at Leesburg, O., from which place the stone is obtained. Work has now been resumed.

Lafayette Courier: John Comperman, who was injured by the cars, at the Wabash yards, some days ago in an extremely critical condition. His injuries consist of live or six deep cuts on the head. Just how they were inflicted is rather a mystery. Com-perman was a brakeman on the road, and it is thought that in endeavoring to light a switch lamp he fell from the train and struck his head on the ties. He is at present suffering from concussion of the brain, and unable to explain the particulars of the accident. It is doubtful if he will recover.

STILL A MYSTERY.

Dick Stewart Dies From His Recent Injuries.

The Cause of His Death Still Unknown.

Yesterday's SENTINEL mentioned the death of Dick Stewart, which occurred at Lafayette yesterday. Last evening's Lafayette Courier gives the following details:

Dick Stewart, the unfortunate fireman, of the Wabash road, who was found unconscious on a flat car near Delphi, died at the residence of his sister, on Salem street at 7 o'clock this morning. Although in a semi-conscious condition for much of the time previous to his death, he never recovered sufficiently to explain how he came by the frightful injuries which were found on the back of the head. The direct cause of his death was concussion of the brain, as the skull bore no marks of fracture. For some hours after Stewart was removed from the cars he was delirious, and it required the exertions of four men to hold him on his bed. In his dying moments he seemed to recognize those about him; aside from this it is not probable that from the time he received the fatal blow until death he was in full possession of his senses. Stewart was a resident of Fort Wayne, where he has a wife and little child some two years old. His mother arrived this morning and was by her son's side when he breathed his last. Stewart had an insurance policy in the Traveling Men's Company for $2,000. The most plausible theory as regards the infliction of his injuries is that while standing on the top of the cars he was struck on the head by the bridge between this city and Delphi, and thrown to the flat car below. This supposition is sustained by the fact that the wound was found to be full of splinters of wood.

By the permission of the relatives a post-mortem examination was held over the body this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Drs. Vinnege and Cady. What the result was has not as yet been made known.

MONROEVILLE MUSIC.

How the Dealers of Our Eastern Suburb Enjoy Themselves.

(Correspondence of the Sentinel)

Monroeville, July 16, 1879.—It has been some time since anything appeared in your paper from this village. We are all here and kicking—not against the pricks as of old—but against the hot weather, the thermometer registering 89° in the shade. Notwithstanding all this the bloods go on a race most every night.

Last night our editor and a certain young M. D. of your city were taking in the sights and preambulating the streets until a late hour, when they came suddenly to a halt in front of the millinery establishment on South street, too full of bug juice to proceed further. They then proceeded to give an open air concert for the benefit of the girls and to the annoyance of a certain doctor who rooms up stairs. The editor was evidently giving the young M. D. lessons in the rudiments of music. He would commence in this wise: "Down, left, right, up, sing! 'She's a dumpling; she's a daisy; such an education has my Mary Ann.' Then the M. D. would strike in and whistle. This thing was kept up until a late hour of the night, when they repaired to their virtuous couches and the peaceful citizens were allowed a few hours quiet repose. This morning they—the editor and M. D.—look like Bismarck's lobster crabs.

A New Form of Investment.

The influx of wealth into this country after the past seven years of dullness is beginning to increase the speculative feeling in all channels of trade. Already the business centers are lively with the praises of mining, manufacturing, railroad, real estate and other speculations; but strange to say, so great is the well deserved confidence in the strict integrity characterizing every action of the managers of the Louisiana Lottery, that its tickets for the monthly grand drawings, which cost two dollars each are a favorite purchase of the leading bankers and brokers in all large cities. Mr. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La., or at No. 692 Broadway, New York City, will give all desired information.

A Wonderful Discovery.

For the speedy cure of Consumption and all diseases that lead to it, such as stubborn cough, neglected colds, bronchitis, asthma, pain in the side and chest, dry hacking cough, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, sore throat and all chronic and lingering diseases of the throat and lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery has no equal and has established for itself a world wide reputation. Many leading physicians recommend and use it in their practice. The formula from which it is prepared is highly recommended by all medical journals. The clergy and the press have complimented it in the most glowing terms. Go to your druggist and get a trial bottle free of cost or a regular size for $1.00. ## CHOLERA.

Not the Slightest Difference in the Symptoms of the Sporadic Cases and those in times of Epidemic.

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

I noticed in last night's SENTINEL an account of a case of real, genuine "Asiatic cholera." No one need be alarmed in consequence of a sporadic case of cholera. Every season, in this climate especially, we have a few cases of so-called cholera. They are, in fact, cases of congestive fever, and nothing else. Of course there is not the slightest difference between these sporadic cases of cholera, in all their symptoms, and real Asiatic cholera as it exists in epidemics of that disease—vomiting, purging, cramps in almost every muscle of the body, with "washer-woman's" hands and feet. In short, in fatal cases, reaction never takes place, and patients die in the cold stage. But in nearly all these sporadic cases they can be saved by proper treatment. That treatment is—to relieve the congestion of the internal organs, by external heat—hot baths, and mustard, with ice internally, and sometimes stimulants, and especially full doses of quinine, the great anti-congestive.

Another name may be given these cases, that of "Pernicious Fever," for doubtless they are all malarial fevers, (whatever malaria may be.)

When this country was new, I used to see every autumn, many of these so-called cholera cases, but as the country has improved and the swamps and marshes been drained, I see few of them, but, as I said, there are a few every year, but not enough to create a panic by giving them a bad name.

Major Zollinger's Leave.

Owing to the necessary absence of the city attorney the Nestle case was postponed until next Tuesday morning, the defendants giving new bonds for their appearance.

Miss Annie Munroe and J. W. Wherry failed to respond to their names as they were called. They were found under peculiar circumstances in a room at the rear of the American House saloon. Default was taken and the mayor told the marshal to notify Mr. Wherry that if another such occurrence was reported his saloon license would be revoked by the city. There was too much business going on at that establishment and one branch of it must be suspended.

WATER WORKS.

Joint Meeting of the Trustees and Water Works
Committee.Reasons Why the People
Should Order the Improvement.An Interview with One of the Trustees.

The water works board and water works committee held a joint session yesterday afternoon. The general topic of water works was discussed at considerable length. An estimate was made to the effect that if $300,000 six percent bonds are issued the tax levy will only be increased $1.33 on the $1,000—a very trifling amount. This does not take into consideration the revenue to be derived from the works, the reduced rates of insurance, and the large saving to be made in the expenses of the fire department.

A large edition of Mr. Cook's report is being printed in English and German, which will be distributed throughout the city, together with the following reasons why water works should be built, which ought to prove conclusive to every reasonable mind:

1. Hardly a city of the size and business importance of Fort Wayne is without a system of water works.

2. A large part of the city is unprotected from fire cisterns or any water supply, except from wells. At recent fires the chief engineer has had to use three thousand feet of hose, which is all he can carry. Whenever he pumps through this amount of hose, he is liable to burst from five to ten sections, each section costing when new, on an average, fifty dollars.

3. If water works are not built about $30,000 will have to be expended in the construction of cisterns, pits, etc., for which are now before the council, awaiting the decision of the people upon water works.

4. If our largest manufacturing establishments and railroad shops are destroyed by fire, we can hardly expect them to be rebuilt where they cannot have such protection as most cities afford. The superintendent of one of our most important railroads estimates that 8,500 men find employment in the shops and manufacturing adjoining our railroad tracks alone.

5. Next in importance to pure air, is pure water. It should be furnished by the people to the people as cheaply and in as abundant quantity as possible. The poor man as well as the rich should have it, so that his street can be kept as free from dust, his grass plot as green, his house as clean, and his family as healthy. It is intended to furnish the purest and best water that can be obtained, for particulars of which examine the report.

6. If waterworks are not built by the city now, they cannot be for many years to come, on account of a constitutional amendment, which will be adopted next year. They will be built, however, by a private company of some kind, supplying only a limited portion of the city, for a company will only extend pipes where they will be most profitable, leaving the city only partially protected from fire and for which limited protection the city will have to pay high tribute at the rate of $50 per hydrant.

In Terre Haute, having only four miles of pipe, the city pays a private company $15,000 per annum for water for city use. A demand of $2,000 per annum is now made upon our city council for water from the canal. Can we expect that the Pittsburgh Railroad Company will continue to give us water for nothing as in the past, for two-thirds of the water that supplies our cisterns now is furnished by this company?

7. Mr. Cook's plan will furnish an abundant supply. The reservoir of earth is imperishable. All the money expended except for pipes can be paid to home labor, and if the pipes can be made in this city it will be done.

8. We have gone bravely through the hard times; the future looks brighter to all classes. Let us keep Fort Wayne growing, for as she is an inland city, she can only grow by the push, industry and intelligent co-operation of her citizens.

9. The affairs of our city have been well managed during the past six years, and we are confident that our council and city officers will see that water works, if built now, will be well and economically built.

10. Mr. C. M. Barton makes an estimate that even if water works did not pay any income at all, and the interest on the bonds should be eighteen thousand dollars, that it would require only an addition to the tax levy on the present valuation of thirteen cents and three and one-half mills on the hundred dollars; that is, a property assessed at one thousand dollars would be charged only one dollar and thirty-three and one-half cents. But we have good reasons for believing that with so many manufacturing interests to supply, water works will be self-supporting inside of three years after completion.

Read Mr. Cook's report carefully and we believe you will vote for water works.

The water works trustees and committee also recommend that Mr. Cook's plan be changed so as to provide pipe distribution and hydrants in Nebraska.

A SQUARE DEAL.

In yesterday's SENTINEL appeared a communication signed "Seventh Ward" in which it was charged that Jesse L. Williams and Chas. McCulloch, in a recent conversation, had stated that if water works were ordered, only the central part of the city would be supplied, leaving the outside wards to wait a few years. Mr. McCulloch was visited this morning by a SENTINEL reporter, and in reply to questions stated that no such a conversation had ever taken place. On the contrary if water works are built, the present board will see that they are extended to every ward at once, according to Mr. Cook's plan. Not only that, but they propose to extend the pipes still further into Nebraska and other parts of the city not included in Mr. Cook's plan. Mr. Williams is heartily in favor of the most extensive pipe distribution possible.

A BAD TOWN TO RUN.

A Few Tramps Undertake the Contract.But Are Compelled to Give Up in Disgust.

Last evening while John Shurick was sitting on his front porch he was approached by a big, burly, greasy looking tramp who demanded something to eat. Mr. Shurick told him he couldn't have anything. The tramp asked why not. Mr. Shurick said for the simple reason that the farmers throughout the country were in need of men to aid them in their harvesting and that if the tramps would ask for work they could get at any rate plenty to eat. The tramp replied, "Yes, that's what all you s— of b—s say." Mr. Shurick ordered him away, and he left, and soon met two of his pals, to whom he related what had taken place. Said he, "Now we will go back and look at the place, and will fix the s— of a b—h to-night." They went back in front of the house, and drawing out a bottle of whisky took a drink and applied a number of opprobrious names to Mr. Shurick, and after abusing him for a short time left. Their conversation was overheard by a man, who was working in a stable by which they passed. He informed Mr. Shurick, who in turn communicated the fact to the police. Capt. Smith and Lieut. Wilkinson went down that way last night and took care that the tramps did not "fix" Mr. Shurick. They found a number of them in the freight cars and on the fair grounds. They at once pitched into them with their clubs and soon dispersed the gang and started them for Chicago with undry bumps and thumps to remind them that Fort Wayne is a bad, bad, town to run.

WAR OF THE WIRES.

Why the Western Union Butts Against the New Company.Substance of the Complaint for an Injunction.

The telegraph war which was referred to in yesterday's SENTINEL, has broken out all along the line. At St. Louis the Western Union folks filed a petition for an injunction against the St. Louis, Kansas, City and Northern Railroad Co., the Central Union Telegraph Co., and others to prevent the construction of wires along the first named road. The petition, which is similar to that filed against the Wabash Company, alleges that defendants have fraudulently conspired and confederated together to the injury of plaintiff by aiding, encouraging and building a joint line of telegraph over the road-way of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern. The Western Union further alleges that the Central Union has not erected any line of telegraph or telegraph material in Missouri or elsewhere, and is without means to acquire any; that the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern, in violation of its contract, has entered into a contract with the defendants to aid and encourage the building of a line of telegraph; that it transports and carries material below the usual rate and allows them the use of their depots and buildings; also that the Central Union Telegraph Company is not in good faith a corporation and is not intended to be in good faith a corporation, has no substantial existence as a business corporation, and exists only on paper. It is the tool and agent of the Central Union, so that if workmen are interfered with and arrested they could say they were the agents of the Central Union. The defendants have already entered upon the construction of the telegraph line, and the Western Union therefore applies for an injunction against all defendants. Plaintiff also avers that, in the event of the construction of a line of telegraph by a rival and competing company, the Western Union line would necessarily be crossed and recrossed, whereby it would be necessarily frequently happen that the current of electricity would be so disturbed as to render inaccurate messages transmitted over plaintiff's line, rendering plaintiff liable to harassing and expensive suits for damages.

The Missouri court refused to grant the restraining order as prayed for, inasmuch as it was simply a bill for an injunction to restrain defendants from violating the terms of a contract. For the violation of a contract the Western Union had its remedy.

The restraining order issued by Judge Ward, of Lafayette, holds until the 31st inst., when arguments will be heard on the application for a permanent injunction.

Sentenced for Life.

A thrilling episode took place in the clerk's office this morning. John A. Prince and Adolph G. Greider appeared and made affidavit that they wanted to get married and the sooner the better. It would suit them. Judges Borlen and Pratt were sent for and Jordan was the first to arrive upon the field of carnage. The parties were at once arraigned and the trial proceeded. The judge frowned as he said: "J. A. Prince and Adolph G.

Greider you are charged in the affidavit with having serious and felonious intent to commit matrimony. What is your plea; guilty or not guilty?" "Guilty," responded both. After a brief cross-examination as to the extent of the aggravation, the judge sentenced them for life, saying, "You God has joined together, now you can go to thunder," at least so it sounded to the reporter who was seated in the rear. The parties will be placed in solitary confinement to-night.

BUSINESS.

Underhill's Marble Works
Change Hands.A "Sentinel" Reporter Visits
the Institution.

A few days ago Dr. Geo. C. Underhill, recently of Lagrange, purchased the Underhill marble yard at the corner of West Main and Cass streets, and is now the sole proprietor of that institution. He is a man of long experience in the business, and as he has taken charge of a leading institution he purposes pushing business in a lively manner. A SENTINEL reporter visited the marble yards this morning and found an immense assortment of articles in the marble line on hand. Mr. Underhill shows a number of very fine mantles and fire-place fronts, marbleized and graniteized slate, enameled cast iron, etc.

The specimens in this department are very handsome. Mr. Underhill will make a specialty of these articles and invites special attention to them. Mr. Underhill has a very large variety of headstones and monuments on hand. They will be made to order at prices ranging from $25 to $10,000, and satisfaction guaranteed. Mr. Underhill is making preparations for a big business. He has six cars of marble and eight cars of sand stone on the way. He gets his mantles from the celebrated establishment of W. L. Perkins in Cincinnati. They are very beautiful, being splendidly polished, some flaked in green, pink, etc. There are very fine specimens of gilt moulding work, gilded fenders, black enamel, etc.

These works are well worth a visit. Mr. Underhill is a live, wide awake business man, and is worthy of liberal patronage.

THE RAILROADS.

Grading on the new Pittsburgh switching yard will be commenced next week.

The Wabash to-day moved sixteen train loads of grain from Lafayette to Fort Wayne.

The total assessment of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad in this county is $650,000.

A deaf mute named Hanley was run over and killed yesterday by a Saginaw passenger train near Auburn.

Dick Steward's funeral took place at Lafayette this morning. Quite a number of the Wabash boys went down from this city to attend.

The editorial excursion for Michigan passed through here last night. They numbered about seventy and went north on the Grand Rapids at 2:50 a. m.

The Universalists' excursion from Van Wert to Rome City arrived here this morning at 9:30. The train consisted of four coaches, containing 120 passengers. A large number joined them here and another coach was added. The train will leave Rome City to-night at 8 o'clock.

Owing to a slack in business the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad have taken off six crews from the east end. The following conductors have been placed on the retired list: J. C. Craig, J. C. Jones, J. W. Fox, J. Fox, H. Gardner and J. Light.

It will be remembered that a short time ago Phil C. Blume and Sam Brubaker left for Kansas to retrieve their fallen fortunes by selling celluloid collars and buffis. Blume passed through the city yesterday going east on the Pittsburgh, leaving word that if there was any mail it should be left at Newcomer's saloon and that he would return and get it in the evening. His mail was sent for and consisted of two interesting telegrams from Sam who is quartered at the Lindell in Kansas City. Phil reports business immense and can't get enough goods to supply the demand. Sam reports business immense but can't get enough money to leave town. The appearances are that Blume has left Sam to foot the bills and Sam hasn't got the lure. Blume has gone to Kendallville and Sam wants him to come back or send him enough money to pay up and leave Kansas City.

Yesterday afternoon as the train from Rome City was nearing Kendallville, a colored gentleman and a companion were leaning out of the window, when gentleman No. 1 dropped his hat. He merely remarked: "Got to have 'at 'at," and leisurely walked back and stepped off. Nothing was known of the event at all until the train had gone about seven miles, when the conductor, in passing through the train, was stopped by gentleman No. 2, who said: "I guess dot odder coon done gone and walked off dis yer keem!" At the first telegraph station, the conductor telegraphed back, search was made and the colored gentleman was found with a broken arm, a sprained leg and a number of other bruises. On being found he said: "I don't does got my hat no how." He was properly cared for.

Little Annie Chapman, aged two years, daughter of B. W. Chapman, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. Her brother Harry and a boy named Fred Elliott, both aged about eight years, took her in her little buggy to the high bluffs north of the M. E. College, where they placed a stone under the buggy wheel and went to playing. By some means the stone became displaced and the buggy started down the incline plane, jumping the bank about six feet into the river. The boys saw the buggy start, and hastened after it, but too late. They then tried to rescue the little one with sticks, but to no avail. Little Annie, however, paddled vigorously, and kept herself above water, until young Otto Schmetzer, son of the county treasurer, happened along, and plunging in, rescued her. The boys were nearly frightened to death. The little girl was not at all injured.

A Bone Spavin on a Valuable Horse—Blistered, fired, rowelled, and did everything without any benefit. A neighbor advised me to try Giles's Liniment. I bought a quart bottle. To my intense satisfaction, the bony deposit disappeared, also the lameness. H. B. EDWARDS, Park Hotel, Oceanport, N. J.

WATER WORKS.

Joint Meeting of the Trustees and Water Works Committee.

Reasons Why the People Should Order the Improvement.

An Interview with One of the Trustees.

The water works board and water works committee held a joint session yesterday afternoon. The general topic of water works was discussed at considerable length. An estimate was made to the effect that if $300,000 six percent bonds are issued the tax levy will only be increased $1.33 on the $1,000—a very trifling amount. This does not take into consideration the revenue to be derived from the works, the reduced rates of insurance and the large saving to be made in the expenses of the fire department.

A large edition of Mr. Cook's report is being printed in English and German, which will be distributed throughout the city, together with the following reasons why water works should be built, which ought to prove conclusive to every reasonable mind:

1. Hardly a city of the size and business importance of Fort Wayne is without a system of water works.
2. A large part of the city is unprotected from fire cisterns or any water supply, except from wells. At recent fires the chief engineer has had to use three thousand feet of hose, which is all he can carry. Whenever he pumps through this amount of hose, he is liable to burst from five to ten sections, each section costing when new, on an average, fifty dollars.

3. If water works are not built, about $30,000 will have to be expended in the construction of cisterns; portions for which are now before the council, awaiting the decision of the people upon water works.

4. If our largest manufacturing establishments and railroad shops are destroyed by fire, we can hardly expect them to be rebuilt where they cannot have such protection as most cities afford. The superintendent of one of our most important railroads estimates that 3,500 men find employment in the shops, and manufacturing adjoining our railroad tracks alone.

5. Next in importance to pure air, is pure water. It should be furnished by the people to the people as cheaply and in as abundant quantity as possible. The poor man as well as the rich should have it, so that his street can be kept as free from dust, his grass plot as green, his house as clean, and his family as healthy. It is intended to furnish the purest and best water that can be obtained, for particulars of which examine the report.

6. If waterworks are not built by the city now, they cannot be for many years to come, on account of a constitutional amendment, which will be adopted next year. They will be built, however, by a private company of some kind, supplying only a limited portion of the city, for a company will only extend pipes where they will most profitable, leaving the city only partially protected from fire and for which limited protection the city will have to pay high tribute at the rate of $50 per hydrant.

In Terre Haute, having only fourteen miles of pipe, the city pays a private company $15,000 per annum for water for city use. A demand of $2,000 per annum is now made upon our city council for water from the canal. Can we expect that the Pittsburgh Railroad Company will continue to give us water for nothing as in the past, for two-thirds of the water that supplies our cisterns now is furnished by this company?

7. Mr. Cook's plan will furnish an abundant supply. The reservoir of earth is imperishable. All the money expended except for pipes can be paid to home labor, and if the pipes can be made in this city it will be done.

8. We have gone bravely through the hard times, the future looks brighter to all classes. Let us keep Fort Wayne growing, for as she is an inland city, she can only grow by the push, industry and intelligent co-operation of her citizens.

9. The affairs of our city have been well managed during the past six years, and we are confident that our council and city officers will see that water works, if built now, will be well and economically built.

10. Mr. C. M. Barton makes an estimate that even if water works did not pay any income at all, and the interest on the bonds should be eighteen thousand dollars, that it would require only an addition to the tax levy on the present valuation of thirteen cents and three and one-half mills on the hundred dollars; that is, a property assessed at one thousand dollars would be charged only one dollar and thirty-three and one-half cents. But we have good reasons for believing that with so many manufacturing interests to supply, water works will be self-supporting inside of three years after completion.

Read Mr. Cook's report carefully and we believe you will vote for water works.

The water works trustees and committee also recommend that Mr. Cook's plan be changed so as to provide pipe distribution and hydrants in Nebraska.

A SQUARE DENIAL.

In yesterday's SENTINEL appeared a communication signed "Seventh Ward" in which it was charged that Jesse L. Williams and Chas. McCulloch, in a recent conversation, had stated that if water works were ordered, only the central part of the city would be supplied, leaving the outside wards to wait a few years. Mr. McCulloch was visited this morning by a SENTINEL reporter, and in reply to questions stated that no such conversation had ever taken place. On the contrary if water works are built, the present board will see that they are extended into every ward at once, according to Mr. Cook's plan. Not only that, but they propose to extend the pipes still further into Nebraska and other parts of the city not included in Mr. Cook's plan. Mr. Williams is heartily in favor of the most extensive pipe distribution possible.

WAR OF THE WIRES.

Why the Western Union Butts Against the New Company.

Substance of the Complaint for an Injunction.

The telegraph war which was referred to in yesterday's SENTINEL has broken out all along the line. At St. Louis the Western Union folks filed a petition for an injunction against the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad Co., the Central Union Telegraph Co., and others to prevent the construction of wires along the first named road. The petition, which is similar to that filed against the Wabash Company, alleges that defendants have fraudulently conspired and confederated together to the injury of plaintiff by aiding, encouraging and building a joint line of telegraph over the roadway of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern. The Western Union further alleges that the Central Union has not erected any line of telegraph or telegraph material in Missouri or elsewhere, and is without means to acquire any; that the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern, in violation of its contract, has entered into a contract with the defendants to aid and encourage the building of a line of telegraph; that it transports and carries material below the usual rate and allows them the use of their depots and buildings; also that the Central Telegraph Company is not in good faith a corporation and is not intended to be in good faith a corporation, has no substantial existence as a business corporation, and exists only on paper. It is the tool and the agent of the Central Union, so that if workmen are interfered with and arrested they were the agents of the Central Union. The defendants have already entered upon the construction of the telegraph line, and the Western Union therefore applies for an injunction against all defendants. Plaintiff also avers that, in the event of the construction of a line of telegraph by a rival and competing company, the Western Union line would necessarily be crossed and increased, whereby it would of necessity frequently happen that the current of electricity would be so disturbed as to render inaccurate messages transmitted over plaintiff's line, rendering plaintiff liable to harassing and expensive suits for damages.

The Missouri court refused to grant the restraining order as prayed for, on account as it was simply a bill for an injunction to restrain defendants from violating the terms of a contract. For the violation of a contract the Western Union had its remedy.

The restraining order issued by Judge Ward, of Lafayette, holds until the 31st inst., when arguments will be heard on the application for a permanent injunction.

Sentenced for Life.

A thrilling episode took place in the clerk's office this morning. John A. Prince and Adolph G. Greider, appeared and made affidavit that they wanted to get married and the sooner the better. It would suit them. Judges Borden and Pratt were sent for and Borden was the first to arrive upon the field of carnage. The parties were at once arraigned and the trial proceeded. The judge frowned as he said: "J. A. Prince and Adolph G.

Greider you are charged in the affidavit with having serious and felonious intent to commit matrimony. What is your plea, guilty or not guilty?" "Guilty," responded both. After a brief cross-examination as to the extent of the aggravation, the judge sentenced them for life, saying, "You God has joined together, now you can go to thunder," at least so it sounded to the reporter who was seated in the rear. The parties were placed in solitary confinement to-night.

BUSINESS.

Underhill's Marble Works Change Hands.

A "Sentinel" Reporter Visits the Institution.

A few days ago Dr. Geo. C. Underhill, recently of Lagrange, purchased the Underhill marble yard at the corner of West Main and Cass streets, and is now the sole proprietor of that institution. He is a man of long experience in the business, and as he has taken charge of a leading institution he purposes pushing business in a lively manner. A SENTINEL reporter visited the marble yards this morning and found an immense assortment of articles in the marble line on hand. Mr. Underhill shows a number of very fine mantles, and fire-place fronts, marbleized and graniteized slate, enameled cast iron, etc.

The specimens in this department are very handsome. Mr. Underhill will make a specialty of these articles and invites especial attention to them. Mr. Underhill has a very large variety of headstones and monuments on hand. They will be made to order at prices ranging from $25 to $10,000, and satisfaction guaranteed.

Mr. Underhill is making preparations for a big business. He has six cars of marble and eight cars of sand stone on the way. He gets his mantles from the celebrated establishment of W. L. Perkins in Cincinnati. They are very beautiful, being splendidly polished, some flaked in green, pink, etc. There are very fine specimens of gilt moulding work, gilded fenders, black enamel, etc.

These works are well worth a visit. Mr. Underhill is a live, wide awake business man, and is worthy of liberal patronage.

THE RAILROADS.

Grading on the new Pittsburgh switching yard will be commenced next week.

The Wabash to-day moved sixteen train loads of grain from Lafayette to Fort Wayne.

The total assessment of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad in this county is $650,000.

A deaf mute named Hanley was run over and killed yesterday by a Saginaw passenger train near Auburn. Dick Steward's funeral took place at Lafayette this morning. Quite a number of the Wabash boys went down from this city to attend.

The editorial excursion for Michigan passed through here last night. They numbered about seventy and went north on the Grand Rapids at 2.50 a. m.

The Universalists' excursion from Van Wert to Rome City arrived here this morning at 9.30. The train consisted of four coaches, containing 120 passengers. A large number joined them here and another coach was added. The train will leave Rome City to-night at 8 o'clock.

Owing to a slack in business the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad have taken off six crews from the east end. The following conductors have been placed on the retired list: J. C. Craig, J. C. Jones, J. W. Foy, J. Fox, H. Gardner and J. Hight.

It will be remembered that a short time ago Phil C. Blume and Sam Brubaker left for Kansas to retrieve their fallen fortunes by selling celluloid collars and buffs. Blume passed through the city yesterday going east on the Pittsburgh, leaving word that if there was any mail it should be left at Newcomer's saloon and that he would return and get it in the evening. His mail was sent for and consisted of two interesting telegrams from Sam who is quartered at the Lindell in Kansas City. Phil reports business immense and can't get enough goods to supply the demand. Sam reports business immense but can't get enough money to leave town. The appearances are that Blume has left Sam to foot the bills and Sam hasn't got the lazure. Blume has gone to Kendallville and Sam wants him to come back or send him enough money to pay up and leave Kansas City.

Yesterday afternoon as the train from Rome City was nearing Kendallville, a colored gentleman and a companion were leaning out of the window, when gentleman No. 1 dropped his hat. He merely remarked: "Got to have 'at hat," and leisurely walked back and stepped off. Nothing was known of the event at all until the train had gone about seven miles, when the conductor, in passing through the train, was stopped by gentleman No. 2, who said: "I guess odder coon done gone and walked off dis yer keers." At the first telegraph station, the conductor telegraphed back, search was made and the colored gentleman was found with a broken arm, a sprained leg and a number of other bruises. On being found he said: "I don't done got my hat no how." He was properly cared

Little Annie Chapman, aged two years, daughter of B. W. Chapman, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. Her brother Harry and a boy named Fred Elliott, both aged about eight years, took her in her little buggy to the high bluffs north of the M. E. College, where they placed a stone under the buggy wheel and went to playing. By some means the stone became displaced and the buggy started down the incline plane, jumping the bank about six feet into the river. The boys saw the buggy start, and hastened after it, but too late. They then tried to rescue the little one with sticks, but to no avail. Little Annie, however, paddled vigorously, and kept herself above water, until young Otto Schmetzer, son of the county treasurer, happened along, and plunging in, rescued her. The boys were nearly frightened to death. The little girl was not at all injured.

A Bone Spavin on a Valuable Horse.... Blistered, fired, rowelled, and did everything without any benefit. A neighbor advised me to try Giles's Liniment. I bought a quart bottle. To my intense satisfaction, the bony deposit disappeared, also the lameness. H. B. EDWARDS, Park Hotel.
